A Breakthrough in Portable Surveillance

Portable, shippable, plug and play video surveillance that almost anyone can install without running wires - makes fast work for portable video surveillance. Instant remote access from almost any PC or cell phone isets up in minutes.

"Smartvue is the perfect solution for temporary surveillance to solve a theft problem or observe employees or customers. We ship the portable kit by FedEx to a store and the system is setup in minutes. We remotely monitor cameras from PCs and cell phone as well as view and save recorded video and still images. Motion detection alerts with instant text messaging keep our store managers on their toes when someone is not where they are supposed to be at anytime."
